The Herald presents on Page 1, Second Section, a resume of the 10 candidates whose names appear on the Second Primary ballot as well as a sample ballot. we hope you find the time to cast your ballot for the candidate of your choice June 2.

FUNNY WORLD A 2-cent stamp, one would think, is worth two cents. But not when a railroad train is printed upside down on a stamp 61 years old.

It seems that the stamp commemorating the Pan American Exposition of 1901 sold for $5,200. It was part of a collection of a former New Yorker now living in Florence, Italy, Margaret Fick Hoffman.

It has center design of a railroad train upside down. Maybe when The Herald prints something upside down, it will be worth a coupla thousand when now it sells for 10 cents on the newsstand.

REVERSE TREND — Leave it to the locusts to set the female species in order, not that the distaff side has too much to say.

A wire story noted recently that the male cicada locust is one of the noisest members of the insect family. But the female of the species is silent. So say the Davey Tree Experts.

This should not be anything to brag about, the women of this world might say. But it is interesting and most heartening to know that the male species of anything can not only get in the last word. but the only words as well.

And in the event that the Women's League of Voters or some such organization should be concerned about this, it was my lovely wife who dug up the basis information on the ever - silent female locust. We make public what silent command recommends.

Hospital To Open In City June 10

The $300,000 Newton Memorial Hospital will hold a formal opening 3 to 6 p. m. Sunday, June 10, according to Hospital officials.

The four - wing structure is located just north of the old Newton Hospital building on North Jefferson.

Officials said the public is invited to visit the 25 - room Hospital, built through Cameron donations of $60,000 and a Hill Burton federal grant of about $150,000 in 1960. Architect is John Linn Scott and Associates, of Austin.

The new building faces east on North Jefferson and has a drive-in to the canopied front entrance and parking area on the south side. Final landscaping and equipment installation was underway this week.

Offices include the lobby or waiting room, an administrator's office, a business office and an office for director of nursing.

Medical rooms include a formula room, a nursery, an examination room, labor room and delivery room, operating and emergency rooms.

Across from the nurse's station is a records and X-ray viewing room and study room. Other facilities also include staff diningroom, doctors' lounge, nurses room, storage and mechanical room that houses air - conditioning and emergency power units.

Semands Construction Co., of Conroe, was general contractor on the project, begun in the fall of 1960.

Red Cross Drive To Begin Monday

Cameron and North Milam residents this week rose to meet the threat of loss of the North Milam Red Cross program in a crash effort to begin a $3,100 fund drive by Monday.

H. D. Maxwell, County Red Cross chairman, said that a meeting of Red Cross Workers from North Milam and Cameron was scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Friday at Milam District Courtroom.

In quick succession, work has begun through:

ONE —Erection of a Red Cross drive thermometer at the Courthouse Square to mark progress of the $3,100 dive.

TWO — Appeals from ministers in practically every Cameron and North Milam area church for individual donations to the June 1-June 15 drive.

THREE — Gathering of campaign materials for workers and leaders in the North Milam area.

Possible loss of the blood program by July 1 unless funds are raised to administrate the bloodmobile and other Red Cross services was prompting the action. Formerly the Red Cross fund drive was part of the North Milam United Fund, now defunct.

Maxwell said that worker materials would be distributed to those community drive leaders unable to meet Friday night at the Courthouse.

In answer to numerous questions for the crash program, drive officials noted where the Red Cross funds go:

ONE — About 15 per cent goes for blood program services, the vital services threatened if the whole Red Cross program folds in North Milam. The South Milam program has already made it's contribution.

TWO —About 38 per cent goes for service to members of the Armed Forces, veterans and families. The Red Cross maintains an office serving all of Milam County in Rockdale where a parttime administrative secretary makes contacts for emergency leaves for Milam servicemen and families.

THREE — About 11 per cent of the fund goes for disaster relief such as the Hurricane Carla experience, which Cameron and North Milam assisted by caring for 1,500 refugees last September.

Red Cross officials last week told Milam volunteer workers that about 30 per cent of the Red Cross fund goes out of Milam County for use in disaster relief and overseas service.

Red Cross officials last week told Milam volunteer workers that about 30 per cent of the Red Cross fund goes out of Milam County for use in disaster relief and overseas service.

The bloodmobile visits Cameron twice a year, with a 70 - pint minimum or 140 pints per year. Last week Cameron area donors gave 94 pints.

But the net deficit in both Cameron hospitals is made up through the Blood Bank in Waco. This would have been about 200 extra pints sent to save Cameron and Milam lives in Cameron hospitals, officials noted. Without the blood, these needing blood would pay $20 to $25 a pint from outside sources. It would have cost area residents some $4,000 to buy that extra blood last year.

But officials do urge that blood be given to make up for the demand when possible.

Heading the drive in Cameron and North Milam are: Maxwell, community area chairman, Dana Kestenbaum, vice - chairman in Cameron ;Mrs. Lilian Lester, drive treasurer; Mrs. Eugene Smitherman, campaign office committee; Eugene Smitherman, publicity.

Other assisting in the drive will be members of the Red Cross county board from North Milam County and their assistants in various communities.

Buckholts Native Schedules Park For Milam Area

A Buckholts native, Raymond L. Posival now of Austin, is still active in promoting development and improvements for his old home town area. Recently he has submitted a suggestion for a roadside park to be considered constructed approximately one mile West of Buckholts on highway Texas 36 -- U. S. 180.

The suggested site, already state owned and for no use otherwise, contains a few Elm trees, shrubs and a Buckholts FFA monument.

"In order to attract and accommodate the increasing flow of tourist and other motorist, I feel there is a need for more roadside parks in Texas," wrote Posival. "Roadside parks do aid in the prevention of auto accidents as they help encourage the tired, sleepy driver to pull in for a break."

In reply to Posival's suggestion, J. A. Waller, Chief Engineer of Maintenance Operations stated that consideration will be given for a roadside park along this route.

"However," said Waller," in developing our system of roadside parks, we have found that certain requiremnts must be met in order for the part to be popular with the traveling public. As funds become available and a desirable site on the highway can be obtained, consideration will be given to developing a roadside park."

Posival is employed in the Installment Loan Dept. of the City National Bank in Austin. In addition, he is head counselor in a men students dormitory.

Saturday Runoff

Countians Await Primary

Voters in Milam and across Teas will go to the polls Saturday to determine Democratic nominees for five state or regional offices of which are not listed on the Milam ballot.

Democratic chairman Max McClaren said that polls will open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m. at all of Milam's 38 voting precincts.

Absentee voting has been comparatively light with the County Clerk's office reporting 60 up to press time Wednesday. Absentee votes must be received by 1 p.m. Saturday if they are to be counted.

McClaren indicated concern about voter apathy in the second primary. Voting totaled about 1.5 million in the May 5 primary and put John Connally and Don Yarborough in the second runoff for governor.

Cameron Fire Rates Down By Four Cents

AUSTIN —Property owners in Cameron will save $2,529 on fire insurance premiums this year if they keep buying that protection at the 1960 rate, since the State Board of Insurance lowered their fire key rate from 37 to 33 cents as of May 15.

The fire key rate reduction means a four per cent decrease in the amount of basic premium per $100 of fire insurance. The board changed rates through a system of charges and credits, after its examiners inspected fire hazards and protective techniques in Cameron.

The community was charged nine cents for substandard pumping units and deficient water mains; four cents for a fire flighting force that is 83 per cent volunteer; four cents for narrow streets and alleys, and three cents for conflagration hazards such as overhead wires and cobustible roofs.

Other charges which brought the total of 36 cents were reduced to the 33 - cent fire key rate by credit of three cents for maintenance of arson reward, auto pumpers, and booster trucks and methods of fire prevention taught in public schools.

June Set As Dairy Month

COLLEGE STATION —June is a time of recognition by the nation of the dairy industry's vital contributions to the health and wealth of America. The month - long observance, now in its 26th year, continues to pick up promotional steam, says A. M. Meekma, extension dairy specialist, and ranks as the biggest single dairy food sales and information campaign in the good field.

June was selected as the time to tell the dairy industry story for production is at its peak during this season, explains Meekma. Businesses of all kinds endorse and support the observance and nationally 13 organizations cooperate with the American Dairy Association to sponsor it.

Richard M. Riley, a well - known Travis county dairyman, is serving as Dairy Month chairman in Riley is an immediate past president of the ADA of Texas and currently a member of the Association's Board of Directors. He is also president of the Mid - Texas Milk Producers Association; vice-president of the Travis County Dairy Herd Improvement Association and a member of the Travis County Dairy Progam Building Committee.

Meekma and Riley point out that dairies throughout Texas and the nation will be holding "open-house" during June and that many special events ranging from a "three minute cow wash" to milk drinking contests will help acquaint the public with the dairy industry and makie dairymen better known to the public they serve.

Goof editors, nutritionists and otbers concerned with the American diet will emphasize milk as "nature's most nearly perfect food" during the month and point out that proper diets or every American should include milk and milk products.

The two dairy leaders extend an invitation to the public to take advantage of the open - house offer by dairymen and pay them a visit.

Tips For Vacation Drivers For Summer Month Aids

You've been planning this vacation for weeks, and now you have the car loaded and the house all buckled down safe while you are away. As you leave town take a second look at yourself as "Captain of the Ship", and review these driving precautions:

A. Daily checks: The driver of the car should carefully observe that the following checks are made.

1. Tire pressures are checked daily - preferably in the morning, with visual checks every time a stop is made. It is not necessary to let air out of hot tires which were properly inflated when cold. If your tires get too hard for comfort, you are driving too fast.

2. Windshields should be cleaned each morning and at least every time gasoline is bought. Keep rear view mirrors clean also.

3. Radiator, battery and oil should be checked at each gasoline refill. Check instrument gauges of these items frequently while driving.

4. Check your speed by looking at the speedometer frequently. If your speed creeps up on you, you are in danger because you are not giving proper attention to the job of driving.

5. Check your baggage and loading carefully each morning and visually check it each time you stop. Be sure that trailer tarp or cover and trailer hitch are secure. Test your foot brakes before any start and immediately after traveling through deep water. Be sure your handbrake will hold your loaded car on any grade upon which you may have to or want to stop. Check all lights before dusk each day. Check the horn each morning before starting.

B. Stopping and Parking - All stopping or parking should be in roadside parks or other places where a stopped car cannot be a hazard to moving traffic. If a roadside stop has to be made on the where the car can be on the shoulder at least four feet from the pavement edge and well away from curves, hillcrests, and bridges. Do not let the children walk or play behind the car or between car and pavement. Set parking brake tight.

1. Stop if driver has to look at a map and stop for other activities that might produce hazards for the driver. Never stop on the paved portion of a rural highway for any reason, except for controlled signals and momentarily yielding to a vehicle or pedestrian.

2 Turn on parking lights when stopped at night in an unlighted area. If help is needed, attach a white cloth to left door handle or radio aerial and raise the hood.

3. When parking for the night, park you car in a well lighted area and perferably off the street or highway. Some cities prohibit overnight parking on public streets.

4. Stop at clean and well kept parks and business places and help keep them clean by placing litter in refuse cans. Never stop under an isolated tree to wait out an electrical storm. Drive to a safe business house or shelter. If rain is severe, stop on shoulder in an open area and leave dim lights on.

5. Select rest stops at places where signals are especially attractive so that driver will not mix driving with sight seeing.

C. Cruising.

1. Drive leisurely and legally; never above the posted or safe speed limit. Cruise with normal flow of traffic; driving at slow speeds on rural highways is hazardous and discourteous if vehicles are following you.

2. Keep a sharp lookout for traffic signs, signals and markings, some of which may not be uniform in design or location.

3. Some one other than the driver should be responsible for the needs and conduct of other occupants of the car to keep down driver distraction and irritation.

4. Follow other cars at a safe distance. The minimum safe distance in feet can be obtained by doubling the speed in miles per hour shown by your speedometer when following. At 60 miles per hour the minimum safe distance to follow is 120 feet.

5. Signal your intentions in plenty of time. Give signals for at least 100 feet in urban areas and 300 feet in rural areas for stops, turns and changing lanes. Flash stop lights before decelerating abruptly.

6. Turn on headlights when dusk sets in and burn lights during any inclement weather which reduces visibility to any amount. In either instance, the first requisite is to be seen by drivers who are some distance away.

7. In passing, aways be sure that you have plenty of clear room ahead and behind on two lane roads before attempting to overtake and pass another car. Never cross the center line on hills or curves, or in no passing zones or when approaching bridges, intersections or railroad crossings. Do not cut back in front of the car you passed before you look in the mirror or to the side to see that you have cleared him.

8. You can stick to your lane better and longer if you stick to soft beverages or coffee while driving. NEVER drink alcoholic beverages while driving. If your car or trailer should run off the roadway, reduce your speed to 20 miles per hour, shift to second gear, check traffic from front and rear beofre returning to the pavement.

9. Keep to the right of the center line on all curves, open and blind, with or without traffic, and dim your lights early on right hand curves.

10. All brakes will fade if you get them hot enough. Use second or low gear for descending steep hills. This will increase your car control and prevent overheating of brake linings.

11. A light rain after a dry period on a pavement coated with traffic film is especially hazardous. Take your car out of overdrive on these slick roads.

12. In going through towns keep a sharp lookout for natives who are not expecting strangers and between lookouts check your speedometer. After cruising at rural speed for several hours your sense of motion will become dull and 45 miles per hour entering a a driver steers. No matter how much it costs or who is driving it, a car goes where the driver steers it.

Now very briefly, some last minute precautions if you plan to camp out:

town will seem like 25 miles per hour.

13. Keep in mind when you start our trip that a car goes as

A. Build an open fire only in an open area and only after you know it is legal to build a fire. Consider the wind hazard in locating a fire site or in building a fire. One man can start a forest fire which a thousand men could not stop. Fire hazards created by a few irresponsible persons make campers unwelcome in areas where the economy depends upon grass and forests.

B. Pour water and - or cover open fire coals completely with dirt before breaking camp.

C. Wash utensils and dishes in hot water and soap and rinse in boiling water. A little neglect in sanitation can cause a lot of food poisoning.

D. Place litter in containers provided for refuse, or burn or bury it. Try to leave a camp site cleaner than it was when you found it.

City's Rec Facilities Serve 1,000's

Cameron's recreation facilities become more and more an attraction to the Milam County seat.

Top notch performances by Cameronites in golf and bowling against strong regional and state competition show the caliber of the Cameron facilities through which they develop their skills.

About 15 Cameron bowlers came home with prizes for placing high in the Austin State Bowling tournament. They were regular league bowlers at Cameron's ultra-modern Cameron Bowling Lanes.

Cameron golfers placed high in competition from 19 Central Texas cities at the Cameron Country Club's 32nd annual Men's Tournament. The Cameron course, probably in no finer shape than at present, draws the plaudits of golfers from all over Central Texas as well as local players who have worked so hard to put it on the top rung of Texas' golf circuit.

The new Cameron theatre downtown and the remodeled Cameron 77 Drive - In attract more and more visitors with each day open.

In recent years, Cameron has recognized the value of good recreation facilities, providing a place for people to spend leisure time in a day when there is more leisure time for Americans. Each passing year will make it more important that Cameron did these things when other communities wished, but did not work as hard or as well.

Cameron's municipal pool has opened this week. Each summer the Tejas Scout district holds a swim meet there, once again recognizing the value of Cameron's facilities.

And just across the way, the Cameron Saddle Club's horse arena will play to capacity crowds this July during the heralded Cameron Horse Show. Texas horse show experts have said that more people attend the Cameron Horse Show Cameron Field, home of Cameron Little League and Babe Ruth baseball, is getting a new refreshment facility and the bleachers are being repainted bright blue for the new season starting Monday. By season's end, thousands of youngsters, parents and visitors will have seen junior baseball in Cameron. than any in Central Texas.

These are remarkable and commendable contributions for a town of less than 6,000 population. Many cities twice this size do not share our good fortune in having the multiple - faceted recreation program available to Milam Countians, indeed Central Texans, in Cameron.

It is certain that these facilities will continue to grow because Cameronites want them to grow and to prosper, Our community's leadership in this particular phase of civic development is paying off handsomely in individual satisfaction and community growth.

We congratulate the leadership of the many men and groups who are making this record possible.

Eight Await Sat. Election Returns

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — Eight tired men will sit down Saturday night -- but not to relax.

Probably it will be well into Sunday before four know that they have won and four know that they have lost the Democratic runoff primary for four important statewide offices.

John Connally and Don Yarborough have battled it out for governor. James A. Turman and Preston Smith are the two tired men in the race for lieutenant governor, possibly the most important job in state government. Waggoner Carr and Tom Reavley competed for Attorney - General. Woodrow Bean and Joe Pool were the busy men seeking nomination for Congressman - at - large, a statewide seat in Congress which likely will be abolished within two to four years.

Following Saturday, they can rest a bit before taking up their campaigns aginst the Republican nominees who are expected to make the strongest bids since 1874 in the general election on November 6.

STATE AND SYMPHONIES CLASH

A new order from the State Comptroller's office struck a discordant note with supporters of Texas' 13 symphony orchestra when they were informed that their productions will no longer be considered exempt from the 10 per cent admission tax.

The Dallas Symphony society was the first to be taxed. They paid $12,999 back admission taxes under protest.

Now symphony groups in Houston, San Antonio, Abilene, Amarillo, Austin, Corpus Christi, El Paso, Fort Worth, Lubbock, San Angelo, Tyler and Wichita Falls are under surveillance of the Comptroller's staff.

Actually, no one ever told the symphonies that they were exempt from the ticket tax. But they so considered themselves under a clause in the law passed in 1936 exempting "charitable" and "educational" organizations. They never were informed otherwise.

With the advent of the new sales tax law, an enlarged staff in the State Comptroller's office was mandatory. Interpretations and rulings were necessary. One rule defined "charitable" and "educatonal" organizations in such a manner that collectors started hitting the symphonies for back admission taxes.

Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas said he thinks exemption of symphonies and similar organizations was "the intent of the 1936 law". He has promised to support redrafting of the state amusement tax law to exempt non - profit cultural institutions.

The Dalls Society's payment "under protest" may pave the way for a court decision. State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert said he'll welcome one. "Frankly, I don't know if symphonies should pay an admission tax," he admitted, "but I don't think they can call a charity."

WATER PROGRAM ACCELERATED

Speed with which federal water projects are coming into final stages is shown by the fact that the Texas Water Commission has reviewed 17 federal projects since September 1, with two more coming up for hearing June 11.

Chief Engineer John Vandertulip said that projects already reviewed by the commission have a total first cost of $325,366,000 of which $192,052,000 is federal.

Those projects are up for congressional authorization or financing this year, so odds are fair that work by federal agencies in Texas will be accelerating greatly in the next two or three years.

Water Commission will hold hearings on June 11 on two .U S. Corps of Engineers' projects -- Plum Creek and the Sabine - Neches Waterway improvement. The latter project, which calls for deepening of existing channels to accomodate super - tankers, totals $20,830,000 federal cost and $1,548,000 non - federal.

LIVESTOCK CONTROL FUNDS SUPPLEMENTED

R. G. Garrett, executive director of the Texas Animal Health Commission, notified Gov. Price Daniel that nearly $9,000 of a $10,000 appropriation for livestock tuberculosis control program has been spent. Remaining funds virtually are exhausted.

So the Governor approved a $5,000 emergency grant to boost the commission's program to August 31.

Animal Health Commission now has 69 herds of cattle under quarantine due to tuberculosis. Plans call for completion of testing in 15 counties as well as additional testing in 19 more counties.

THE OLD PHILOSOPHER

Philosopher Comes Out With Solution To Problem Of Candidates Interferring With TV

Dear editar:

Since nobody else seems to be working on this problem, I have decided to give it some thought.

The problem is: what can the country do about candidates interferring with television programs during a hot campaign?

Eveybody knows how important it is for a candidate with the guaranteed solutions to vital problems all the way from atom bomb testing to government waste to the salvation of civilization, to get on the air just ahead of an election and say so, makes no difference whether he's running for Justice of the Peace or Governor or the U. S. Senate. And yet everybody knows the groans that go up when the people settle down to see Gunsmoke and hear an announcer say the following time has been bought and paid for at regular commercial rates by somebody who is running for the State Legislature, Place 19.

Now I'd be the first to agree that the people need to be informed, and they need to be entertained, by been times when I have been more entertained than informed by political speeches and more informed than entertained by entertainment programs.

But here's the thing: it's not fair to the people to have Gunsmoke, for example, put off the air temporarily for a political speech they don't want to hear, and it blamed sure ain't fair to the candidate to be the one who does it.

But I have hit on a solution. We can have both, at the same time.

Haven't you noticed a Western or nearly any other TV drama there are long stretches of silence, like when the killer and the marshall are staking each other just prior to te show - down fight?

Why couldn't TV producers strech these stalking periods out a little longer and let a candidate come on for a few words connecting the election of him with the preservation of civilization? When the marshall is chasing the outlaw on horseback in a Western, or the private detective is chasing the killer by car in an Eastern, why not let them go two miles or ten blocks longer, as the case may be, and during the silence work in some more of the candidate's speech?

Then everyody can go to bed, entertained and informed, and not sure which he's the sleepiest from.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Dear Sir;

Perhaps you would be interested to know how strangers in your city are impressed by the citizens of your community. If so it would please me if you would print the following in a future edition after we have been released from one of your local hospitals.

To the good people of Cameron I speak in the behalf of my wife and son as well as for myself. Thanks for your kindness, thoughtfulness and understanding toward us while we were patients at the Newton Memorial Hospital as a result of a car accident near your city on May 12.

We have many friends elsewhere but none were more kind to us than the people of your city.

MAN HAD BRICK IN HIS STOMACH FOR 10 YEARS

One man said that for 10 years he felt like he had a brick in his stomach, due to undigested food he always had inside of him. Recently he started taking V.I.H. and says the "brick-feeling" disappeared. Now he is like a new man, eats anything.

V.I.H. is a new, scientific formula. It is taken before meals and works with your food. It not only relieves gas; it also gives the bowels a great cleansing; it brings out impurities that cause headache, foul breath, coated tongue and worn out feeling. Miserable people soon feel better all over. So don't go on suffering! Get V.I.H. at all leading Drug Stores.

High Percent Of Child Accidents Caused By Mower

Most parents would be horrified if they saw a loaded gun pointed in the direction of their children. Few of these same parents realize that they potentially duplicate this situation every time they operate a rotary power mower while childen are nearby, playing, helping or just waching.

That metal blade rotating at 3800 RPM can project a stone, nail, wire or other small object with the velocity and impact approaching that of a .22 caliber rifle. Inevitably some of these missiles find a human target. Direct contact with whirling blades also account for hundreds and perhaps thousands of amputated toes, fingers and feet

In a Georgia Health Department Survey, 463 responding private practitioners reported 794 lawn mower accidents over a two year period; 70 percent were direct-contact injuiies and 30 per cent were from flying objects.

Recently published figures, although undocumented, suggest that 85,000 to 80,000 such injures may occur in one year with loss of 50,000 toes and 18,000 fingers.

Safety measures incorporated in these machines themselves are no insurance against careless operators. Children frequently become the innocent victims of missiles from rotary power mowers.

Two Cameronites Attend Showing

Mrs. W. M. McIntosh and John Schigut of Cameron were among the buyers and merchants attending the American Fashion Association Fall Market in Dallas, May 27 June 1.

Several thousand lines of women's and children's apparel, manufactured all over the United States, were exhibited in the Adolphus and Baker Hotels and more than 5,000 buyers from throughout the Southwest were present, according ti Sherman Bernon, president of the fashion associaton.

Murray-Go-Round

By Tom Murray

Bill Adair, Milwaukee Manager Birdie Tebbets' hand - picked third base coach, controlled the conversation.

"Carl Warwick", he said bluntly, "is a better ball player than 90 percent of the starting outfielders in the major leagues today. "

Adair had a chair surrounded in the Rice Hotel lobby. Milwaukee had arrived for a three - game blast with Harry Craft's new Houston Colts.

Warwick, now regular centerfielder for Houston, was then a St. Louis Cardinal bench - warmer, despite great promise born on outstanding minor league play.

"Warwick is going to play for somebody," Adair continued. "He's a darn good ball player. I wish we had him.

"But St. Louis would never trade him to us," Adair said, leaving the obvious unsaid -- that the Cardinals were not fools. Johnny Keane was not about to trade a potentially great ball player to another pennant contender.

Warwick, who proves that idiom about some athletes being "wound up tight" according to Adair will become a solid customer in major league baseball with the opportunity.

"He's the kind of player", the Milwaukee coach said, "who must play a lot for you to recognize his value -- he can beat you so many ways.

"Carl can run like the wind, he's got a good arm, he battles at the plate and can hit the long ball.

"I've watched him a long time now, and he's always impressed me."

Despite his promise, Carl had not receved that real good shot at the majors. The Dodgers shelled out $40,000 for his autograph in 1958 and he responded with a .239 average at Macon in the Sally League. "I thought he was the best major league prospect in the league," says Adair whose Jacksonville pitchers faced the TCU lad from 90 paces.

Warwick smacked 19 pitched balls out of sight and won promotion to Victoria, of the Texas League, where he hit .338 led the league in home - runs (35) and stole 20 bases.

Pistol Pete Reiser, Dodger Coach who managed Victoria, called Warwick a "can't - miss" majorleagurer. "In fact" Pete has said, "I am positive he will make it faster than Frank Howard."

This is still up for grabs.

Buzzy Bavasi, the wordy Los Angeles Veep called Warwick, "The man who will replace Duke Snider after the Texan had hit .290 at St. Paul in 1960 and poled 18 home - runs off near - major league pitching.

Still the Dodgers gave Carl only token appearances early in 1961 finally shipping him to St. Louis. There he apparently had found a home. He started smacking the ball around and the Sporting News called him a potential "Rookie of the Year."

But, as abruptly as the honeymoon began, it ended. He went 0 for 4 about a week, was benched and soon headed for the nimors.

Warwick got a good start this spring but when Minnie Minoso got an unexpected great kickoff, was relegated to pinch - hit appearances most of the way. He treated news of his trade to Houston with great exuberance.

"This is the best break we could have gotten," enthuses the 170 pounder who married a pretty Baytwon Lass.

"Houston is a great town, a great baseball town and I am looking forward to being a part of their organization.

"Carl was so excited," Nancy Warwick was saying, "That he could hardly tell me of his trade to Houston over the phone.

"They were at Cincinnati and he told me to pack the car and meet him at the airport.

"I packed, put the girls in the car and we drove out of St. Louis on our way to Houston three hours later," she said.

Mrs. Warwick, like Bill Adair, is anxious for her husband to play regularly.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Varva of Houston spent the weekend with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Will Biskup.

Other measures he promises to work for if elected are:

To correct inequities in Texas women's rights.

For better schools.

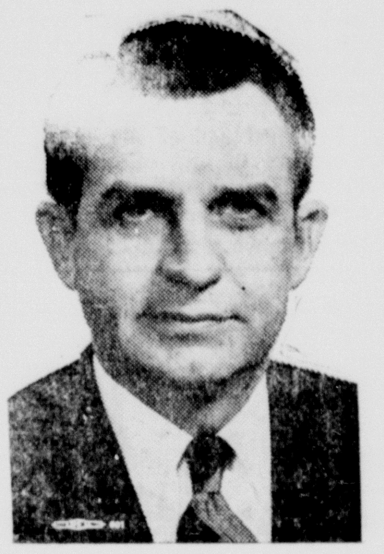
Attorney General Candidates

Waggoner Carr



Tom Reavley

Waggoner Carr

Waggoner Carr, 42, is a Democratic candidate for Attorney General on a platform of vigorous leadership in the State's highest legal office, backed by his experience as a practicing attorney and public official.

He served ten years in the Legislature and is one of only three men in the history of Texas to be elected to two successive terms as Speaker of the House of Representatives. Before going to the Legislature, Carr was County Attorney of Lubbock County and also Judicial District. For the past 15 years he has practiced law in Lubbock.

In his campaign he has stressed the need to strengthen the state's criminal laws and code of criminal procedures to eliminate legal technicalities which have no real bearing upon the guilt or innocence of the accused but which too often free criminals to resume their depredations. He also advocates more effective handling of juvenile crime and improved measures to prevent juvenile delinquency.

"We cannot expect a healthy prosperous future for Texas unless we have respect for all the laws," Carr asserts. "The Attorney General must perform his duty under every law whether he personally believes in it or not. At the same time we must not violate individual rights."

Achievements during Carr's tenure as Speaker were creation of the Law Enforcement Study Commission, the Texas Youth Council and the Constitutional Revision Committee; revision of the juvenile code and the state traffic laws and passage of the Texas Water Planning Act of 1957.

He is a graduate of the Texas Technological College and of the University of Texas School of Law.

He served for two years as president of the state Junior Bar and was vice - chairman of the Texas Committee to Eliminate the Loan Shark Evil during 1960-61.

He has stressed the importance of the attorney general's office in protecting the Texas oil and gas industry, in seeking that the state gets the greatest possible return from its natural resources.

The attorney general he says, is a key figure in the fight against loan sharks and should exercise leadership in bringing about adequate reforms of the laws on this subject.

He believes in private ownership, private initiative in economy in government, opposes concentrations of power "in the market place or in government."

EDITORS NOTE:

Woodrow W. Bean

Judge Woodrow Wilson Bean, 45, of El Paso, is a candidate for Congressman - at - Large for Texas. He was a student at Texas A & M, SMU and the University of Texas Law School and served in the Texas House of Representatives for six years.

He was one of the original sponsors of the Texas Good Neighbor Commission and was author of the bill that authorized Texas' share of the Big Bend Park agreement in 1941.

Judge Bean supports more adult education, the King - Anderson Medical Care program, the U. S. Department of Labor's program to aid migrants and international programs to stamp out livestock diseases.

Bean recently revealed that he has not filed an income tax report for 10 years because he thinks the tax is "illegal and immoral."

At a press conference in Houston Saturday Judge Bean said, if elected, he would offer three bills for enactment into law.

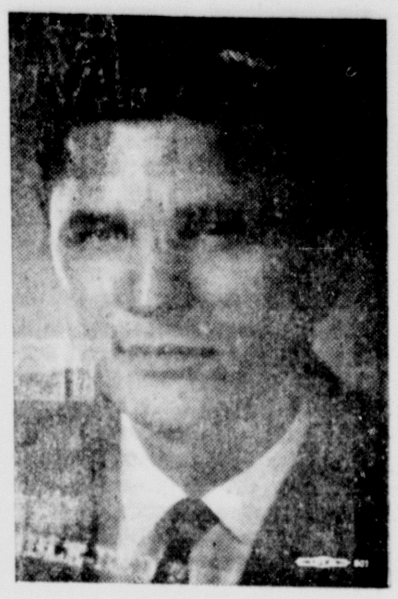
"The first one will be for an outright repeal of the income tax law.

"The second will be an alternate bill exempting the first $7,500 of earned family income from taxation and providing for a $1,500 exemption for each dependent.

"The third will be an act to limit the present totalitarian powers of Internal Revenue agents," Bean said.

Gubernatorial Candidates

John Connally



Don Yarborough

John Connally

John Connally, 45, of Floresville, seeks to put Texas "on top in education, industrial growth and her people's well being in his first race for elective office.

Former Secretary of the Navy, Connally bases his platform for governor on "meeting the challenge Texas faces in the destiny of the space age."

"I want to see Texas offer job opportunities second to none," Connally says. As Navy Secretary for a year under President John F. Kennedy, he headed a Navy Department having a budget of $15 billion and a payroll of 1.2 million people.

A strong believer in research, Connally proposes to upgrade Texas' institutions of higher learning by providing research facilities to attract eminent professors. And he proposes to follow up this program with a personally led tour for labor - management terms across the nation in quest of new plants and businesses for Texas.

He also urges a vocational training and job placement program for older people.

And he has emphasized economy in government to place Texas on a sounder fiscal basis.

Connally grew up in the South Texas ranch country. One of seven children, he worked his way through the University of Texas, earning a law degree.

He won the Legon of Merit and the Bronze Star in the Navy and rose to the rank of lieutenant commander.

A business and legal career brought him experience as an administrative aide to the then Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, now U. S. Vice - President and later as an attorney for the late Sid W. Richardson and Perry R. Bass, major independent oil operators.

Don Yarborough

Don Yarborough, 36, ex - marine and aggressive Houston trial attorney, has called for outright repeal of the general sales tax in his campaign for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Texas.

A forceful speaker, Yarborough calls for "an economic revival of free business enterprise and equal rights for Texas small businessmen."

He says: "As I have traveled from town to town, I have found skeletons of once prosperous businesses strewn along the way. We mus generate new economic opportunity in ou rrural areas.

Yarborough advocates a rural affairs department in the state govenment to halt the decline of population and to attract industry to provide more jobs in rural areas.

The general sales tax, he says, "is an example of how our state government in Austin favors out-of - state corporations over small businessmen in Texas."

Other planks in his platform include:

Increase in old - age pensions.

Industrial expansion and more job opportunities.

A small businessman advisory task force to meet monthly with the governor to discuss economic growth and solutions to knotty problems stemming from competition with monopolistic chain stores and other out - of - state corporations.

Yarborough was a candidate for Lt. Governor in 1960 and was an active campaigner for Judge Ralph Yarborough, now Senior U. S. Senitor form Texas, in his first statewide race for Governor.

Milam ASCS Report

By Milam County ASCS

A referendum on the national turkey marketing order will be held June 18 through June 22, 1962 according to Alva E. Sanders, office manger of the Milam County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. Ballots may be cast in person at the county ASCS office or by mail.

All turkey producers eligible to vote in the upcoming referendum are urged to file their certification of turkeys marketed in 1961 at the ASCS as soon as possible. Eligible to vote are turkey producers having a share in the risk in the production and selling of more than 3600 pounds of live turkeys in 1961. The certification as to the number of pounds marketed must be filed prior to June 22. Ballots and certification forms have been received in the county office.

The national turkey marketing order is designed to provide the industry with a means of adjusting turkey marketings in order to assure fair returns to producers and reasonable prices to consumers. To become effective, the order must be approved by at last two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum.

Sanders urges anyone selling or having an interest in Turkeys in 1961 contact the county ASCS office immediately for information on the referendum.

COTTON REPORT

Cotton planting is well advanced throughout the area, moisture is needed in all sections Spot market activity was slow. Shipper demand mills bought in small volume. Interest from abroad was improved.

Hot dry and windy weather was the general weather pattern for the week. Thunder storms in West Texas with spotted heavy rain and some hail damaged property and caused considerable crop damage in some localities. Cotton planting is well advanced throughout the Area. Insects are on the build - up in the Corpus Christi section and some pink billworms have been found. Irrigated cotton in the Lubbock area is about 90 percent planted with 50 percent up to a good stand. About 15 per cent of the dryland acreage has been planted. Prospects in general are good but insect control and a good rain are the vital needs at this time.

County Agents Notes

Local Stockmen Report Samples

By J. D. More
Milam County Agent

Local stockmen have been most cooperative in sending in samples of possible screwworm larvae. Our office recieved a report of the following cases and dates submitted: N. E. Barron, April 25, screwworm Marcel Walker, May 2, screwworm; Dr. R. M. Titsworth, May 3, screwworm; S&S Farm, J. B. Schiller, May 6, screwworm; Ben Ardin, Gause, May 8, screwworm and Lee Keen, Milano, May 16, screwworm. Possibly others have been sent in but reports not complete.

Dr. Bushland of the U. S. Department of Agriculture Laboratory at Kerrville reports that scewworm fly egg masses collected by fieldmen working in counties that have had large numbers of screwworm cases reported 65 to 75 percent of the eggs to be sterile.

This in effect, means that the technique of the sterile male fly released is working. Ranchmen should be assured that this program is moving along in good shape.

June 16 has been set as the date for the dedication of the screwworm fly production facilities at Mission, Texas. These are the facilities that are being built to have a capacity of raising 75 million screwworm flies per week when in full operation The construction of these facilities has come from mostly producer's funds that were contributed by the various counties.

These facilities are being completed ahead of schedule. Stockmen should follow a regular preventive spray program using Co - Ral or Korlan, following closely the instructions on the labels. These sprays give protection for two to three weeks.

John Batte, county chairman, has distributed bottles or mailing in these samples, in various communities. Anyone needing bottles may contact John or the county agent.

COTTON INSECT REPORT

Winds continued too high throughout the month of May resulting in difficulty in controlling thrip infestation. Heavy migration of adult thrips added to the problem of requiring more spray applications than normally expected.

Thrip damage is pretty well under control. Next in order will be the Flea Hoppe. The Horsemint plant is the favorite host plant for the fleas. There are now three sizes of fleas in this host plant with an excessive number of winged adults. Around the first of June, the Horsemint plants are mature enough to encourage migration of the fleas into cotton fields. Two spray applications during the first half of June, at 6-day intervals, will be necessary to control the Flea Hoppers.

Spray materials recommended for flea control are: Guthion, one pint per acre; Sevin, one pint per acre; Heptachlor, Stobane, Toxaphene, Dieldrin and Endrin at the recommended dosages per acre.

Take this child.....

..... "Take this child and nurse it for me, and I will give thee thy wages."

Only a mother can know the thrill of these words, spoken long ago on behalf of him who later stood by the "burning bush" which lighted the path to greatness!

In mother's heart today is the cherished hope for greatness for the child for whom she passed through the valley of shadows.

In the heart of worthy sons and daughters is the responsive desire that mother's hope, faithfully burning through darkness and sunshine, shall have its reward.

The well-being and greatness of mother and child is constantly assured when both are yielded in faith and dedication to Him Who is the Source of life—and from Whom cometh "every good and acceptable gift."

The appropriate time and place to give tribute to Mother is the Lord's day in the Lord's house—and the way to do it is in worship of her God and your God, that peace, love and sweetness may be full and complete.

GOP Approves New Resolutions

Dr. E. O. Smith, Jr., GOP county chairman, released this week the list of resolutions which Milam County Republicans approved in their county convention May 12.

The 18 resolutions will be presented to the Republican Party state convention which will be in Fort Worth September 18.

The resolutions wert divided roughly into three groups -- national, state and local, and individual. The largest group -- ten -- dealt with national issues.

They were in favor of: Government economy, National Sovereignty as opposed to the World Court or U. N., a strong foreign policy, victory over Communism and Socialism, reduction of the national debt, limitation of this country's participation in the nited Nations, abolition of the Federal income tax.

And they opposed Red China's admission into the U. N., Government in competition with business, and Government limitation of agriculture production instead of making efforts to expand the farmer's markets.

On State and local issues four resolutions favored: State sovereignty as granted by the Constitution, local school control. Local self government, and revision of Texas' election laws to make voting procedure in two - party system more practice.

On issues affecting the individual citizen another four resolutions favored: Workers rights and Texas' "right to work" laws, local medical care as opposed to Federal medicare, private enterprise, and limiting Social Security to a Voluntary basis.

Quoted are several of the resolutions dealing with issues which are being debated at the present time:

On local school control:

"We believe that the people of Texas can provide finer education facilities for Texas schools and colleges through local and state financing, administration and control. We want Texas schools free from dangerous Federal intervention and domination."

On medical care:

"We believe that Government medical care, no matter what it is called, not only infringes on personal liberty, but it will also greater costs for everyone. We know that those who are unable to care for their needs can best be helped by local charitable groups and local authorities who know the true circumstances."

On the UN:

"We believe in limiting the participation of the United States in the United Nations to arbitration only."

On Government in Agriculture.

"We recommend that the Government's efforts at solving the problems of agriculture be directed towards exploring markets instead of toward controlling and limiting production."

On the Income tax:

"Recommend abolition of the federal income tax by Texas joining in voting for the proposed amendment to repeal it".

Aerial Mesquite Control Told For Texas Area

COLLEGE STATION —There are several methods for controlling mesquite, but one of the most economical and practical for Texas is the aerial application of 2,4,5-T. This method is usually used on relatively pure stands of mesquite, explains G. O. Hoffman, extension range specialist.

For the aerial application of 2, 4, 5-T to produce the desired results, several factors must be present. There should be plenty of soil moisture to make the mesquite grow vigorously and produce a dense foliage. At the time of spraying, the foliage is in the dark green. Hoffman says that this yaer the mesquite foliage is in the best condition in several years, and good results should be obtained from aerial control provided the moisture situation remains favorable.

Also, if rain falls during the spraying season, it is advisable to wait until the new leaf tip growth has turned dark green. This usually takes about two weeks.

The chemical mixture to use for aerial control of mesquite is 1-2 pound of 2, 4 ,5-T, 1 gallon of diesel oil, and enough water to make 4 gallons of mixture. This four gallons of chemical mixture should be applied to one acre in a manner that insures complete coverage of the foliage.

Hoffman says a miracle should not be expected. The total root kill under ideal conditions is 25 to 35 per cent. The initial control will last from 5 to 7 years before spraying of the growth is necessary.

After the spraying, the pasture should be deferred to allow the grass to re - establish. Graze it during the winter, defer it the second growing season, then use it properly. The extra grass is what pays for the brush control practice.

If it rains in the mesquite country within the next two weeks, it may be advisable to spray every acre of mesquite in Texas, says Hoffman.

For more information on aerial control of mesquite, contact your local county agent.
